BETHLEHEM CELEBRATES SECOND CHRISTMAS OF PANDEMIC

AFP

■ People outside the Church of the Nativity during Christmas celebrations in the biblical city of Bethlehem in the West Bank yesterday. Travel restrictions kept foreign tourists away for a second year, but the small Christian community turned out in droves. SEE ALSO P10-14

1 in 10 Londoners down with Covid

PM Boris Johnson yesterday urged Britons to get vaccinated as government data indicated that about 10 per cent, or 1 in 10 people, of Londoners were infected with Covid-19. An estimated 1 in 25 people across the UK were infected as of December 19. Omicron hospitalisations are doubling every 4 to 5 days in UK. France yesterday reported a record 94,124 new daily cases. Along with Australia, it joined South Korea, Britain and Thailand to cut the booster dose interval to three months over Omicron fears | WORLD, P11
